

Acknowledgments

There are many people who helped me directly or indirectly with this book, and to whom I would like to express my appreciation.

My greatest thanks goes to the children in my classroom and to the teachers from my summer mathematics classes. The children taught me mathematics in their way and the teachers motivated me to write these ideas down. I am indebted to the State of California, the Miller Mathematics Specialized Teacher Project, the California Mathematics Council, and The Center for Innovation in Education for giving me those teaching opportunities.

BARBARA BEATTY provided many editorial suggestions and helped me revise the format for conveying the ideas clearly. Her guidance was invaluable. It meant a great deal to me to have Barbara work on this book, because it was her encouragement years earlier that resulted in WORKJOBS being published.

EDITH GEEVER designed the book. From the very beginning she intuitively understood its real character and I believe her design has contributed a great deal to the presentation of the ideas.

BILL SKEAHAN photographed and developed all the pictures for the book, just as he did for WORKJOBS. We took over a thousand pictures in the following schools:

KENNEDY SCHOOL; San Jose, California
Teachers: Diana Morse, Jill Peter, Elaine Peponis
Grade: Kindergarten

ROGERS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, San Jose, California
Teachers: Karen Sorensen, Delores Teano
Grade: One

CROWLEY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, Visalia, California
Teachers: Kathy Richardson, Agnes Hinojos
Grade: Two

JOHN BALDWIN SCHOOL, Danville, California
Teachers: Phyllis Redfield Barton, Jane Roskelley
Grades: One and two

BANCROFT SCHOOL, Walnut Creek, California
Teacher: Peggy Beltramo
Grade: Two

MARIANO CASTRO SCHOOL, Mountain View, California
Teacher: Louise Gluckman
Grade: One

While I was doing the tremendously demanding work of writing, rewriting, setting up the photographs, and working with galleys and pageproof, the support and encouragement from Learning Tree, Marilyn Burns, Kathy Richardson, and especially Bob, sustained me and kept me going.

When I remember my debts, there are some which can never be repaid. Two are to Bob and Joseph, for love. And two are to my parents, Bea and Joe Baratta, for my life.

My sincere thanks to these people and to the many others who have contributed to the development of these ideas.

Mary Baratta-Lorton

Royalties from this book accrue to the Center for Innovation in Education to support innovative activities in the education of both children and teachers.
