

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The most significant contributions to this book have come from the children it has been my privilege to have as my students. It is they who taught me that, given the time and the freedom, every student is capable of learning. It is they, too, who as I searched for ways that might make their learning more meaningful, taught me to be as pleased with their successes and as tolerant of their failures as they were with mine.

For the moral support they have provided me, which extends far beyond their support for the writing of this book, I am deeply indebted to:

Mary Baratta-Lorton
Marilyn Burns and the people of
Learning Tree
Shelley Boutacoff
Richard Cossen
Lynn Pruzan
Karen Sorensen
Cathy Swanson
Maureen West
